DETAILED ACTION

1. The "Response to election of species requirement" filed 4/02/2007 have been entered and made of record. In the arguments, the Applicant argues that the Figs. 7B-7E as presented by the Examiner in the initial Election/Restriction requirement does not provide rationale to support a position for defining several species. The Examiner when making the initial Election/Restriction requirement believed that the Figs. 7B-7E described the different equations of implementing the generation of the common read/write addresses described in the Applicants specification but has realized that this was not so. The Examiner still believes that an Election/Restriction is required and therefore has clarified the position to how the different equations as presented by the Applicants specification does lead to the defining of several species. Further discussions will be discussed below.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- Species I as depicted by equation 3 [see pages 9-10 of the specification] as one specific implementation of generating the common read/write address and defined by claims 19-21, 43, 36, 8-9, 16-17, 35, and 10-12.
- Species II as depicted by equation 4 [see pages 16-17 of the specification] as another different specific implementation of generating the common read/write address and defined by claims 29-31, 35, 47, and 37.

Art Unit: 2624

- Species III as depicted by equation 5 [see page 18 of the specification] as another different specific implementation of generating the common read/write address and defined by claims 22, 44, 39, and 38.
- Species IV as depicted by equation 6 [see page 20 of the specification] as another different specific implementation of generating the common read/write address and defined by claims 23, 40, 45 and 41.
- Species V as depicted by another different specific implementation of generating the common read/write address and defined by claims 24-28, 40, 46, and 42.

The species are independent or distinct because each implementation is structurally different in design and operate by different modes as could be seen in the variables and equations that are used in the different equation implementations.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-7, 13-15, 18, 32-34, and 38 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

3. A telephone call was made to Alex Chang on 6/05/2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
